DETAILED ACTION

In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 08/19/2005, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new grounds of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Priority

Acknowledgement is made that application is a CON of application 08/975,458 09/28/1994 abandoned.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

1. Claims 28 and 35-50 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7, 14-17 and 21-27 of copending Application No. 09/975,457. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because '457 application claims 1-7, 14-17 and 21-27 teach all the elements in claims 28 and 35-50 in the instant application.

This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

As per Claims 28 and 35-50 of instant application, claims 1-7, 14-17 and 21-27 of applications '457 teach method for providing automated accounting system for an entity that include establishing a file for the entity, providing data inputs and providing access to data file for performing the transactions. Claims 35-44 of instant application is similar to claims 2-7 and 14-17 respectively of the application '457. Similarly claims 45-50 is similar to claims 21-27 of the application '457.

2. Claims 28, 35-51 and 67-69 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-18 of U. S. Patent No. 5,875,435 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a method for providing financial accounting reports statements for entity comprising a menu of standardized codes, conducting separate financial transaction, associating standardized codes, sorting transaction and generating accounting reports.

As per claims 28, 51 and 69, claims 1 of patent '435 teach a method for providing financial accounting reports statements for entity comprising a menu of standardized codes, conducting separate financial transaction, associating standardized codes, sorting transaction and generating accounting reports. Claims 35-44 of instant application is similar to claims 2-11 of the patent '435.

As per claims 45, 59 and 67-69, claims 12-13 of patent '435 teach first computer (financial accounting computer), second computer (financial transaction computer), transferring data between the computers and providing access to perform one or more activities. Claims 46-50 in instant application is similar to claims 14-18 of the patent '435.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 28-44, 51-54, 63-66 and 70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Regarding claims 28-44 and 51-54, as best understood, it appears that the claimed method steps could simply be performed by mental process alone and are not statutory. The independent claims 28 and 51 are directed towards steps of "providing", "associating", "transmitting" and "sorting". Since the claims are directed to a process without including another statutory class of invention (i.e. machine, manufacture, or composition of matter), these claims fall within the scope of human intelligence alone, and are non-statutory.

Based on Supreme Court precedent, a proper process must be tied to another statutory class or transform underlying subject matter to a different state or thing (Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876)). Since neither of these requirements is met by the claim, the method is not considered a patent eligible process under 35 U.S.C. 101. To qualify as a statutory process, the claim should positively recite the other statutory class to which it is tied, for example by identifying the apparatus that accomplished the method steps or positively reciting the subject matter that is being transformed, for example by identifying the material that is being changed to a different state.

As to claims 63-66 and 70, the claims are directed to data signal embodied in a carrier wave. The data signal bearing medium is of non-statutory forms and therefore non-statutory. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

entering into said file information regarding at least one of the users (see Fig. 6A, step 172).

14. As per claim 36, Nelson teaches claim 35 as described above. Nelson further teaches the method wherein said information includes beginning balances for income, expenses, assets, liabilities and/or bank accounts (see Fig. 5b).

15. As per claim 37, Nelson teaches claim 36 as described above. Nelson further teaches the method wherein including entering into said file coding information appropriate to at least one of the users (see Fig. 5b; where customer George Nelson transaction for period Jan. 31, 1987 – Feb 28, 1987 is entered into the account statement).

16. As per claim 38, Nelson teaches claim 28 as described above. Nelson further teaches the method wherein including providing said users and/or agents of said users pass codes to permit access to said at least one file (see column 6, lines 26-30; where account statement is available to customer via different mean including the display; Examiner notes it well known in art of invention that access to information could be restricted by customer requiring to enter pass code).

17. As per claim 39, Nelson teaches claim 28 as described above. Nelson further teaches the method including:

providing a subsidiary ledger for each of said other entities (see Fig. 4a; where transaction by transaction of different customer are recorded in a file which examiner interprets as a subsidiary ledger)and

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

32. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

33. Claim 40 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable Nelson, U.S. Patent No. 4,823,265 (reference A in attached PTO-892) in view of Marks, U.S. Patent No. 5,117,356 (reference B in attached PTO-892).

34. As per claim 40, Nelson teaches claim 39 as described above.

Nelson does not teach providing access to said subsidiary ledger for said users and/or agents of said users, whereby said users and/or agents can perform one or more activities selected from the group consisting of entering, deleting, reviewing, adjusting and processing said data inputs in said selected subsidiary ledgers .

Marks teaches use of account control table that contain symbolic codes used by record keeping procedure that authorize, control the creation and updating of ledger account and transaction record data files (Marks, abstract).

Therefore, it would be have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add providing access to said subsidiary ledger for said users and/or agents of said users, whereby said users and/or agents can perform one or more activities selected from the group consisting of entering, deleting, reviewing, adjusting and processing said data inputs in said selected subsidiary ledgers of Nelson because Marks teaches that adding above features would enable update ledger using symbolic codes (Marks, column 2, lines 50-57).

Conclusion

The following are pertinent to current invention, though not relied upon:

Braun et al. (U.S. Patent No. 4,321,672) teach financial data processing system.
